EAGLE CLAW® FISHING TIP: No Bananas

Some experienced anglers and guides won't let you set foot in their boat if you pack bananas for lunch. This legend started when banana shipments coming from South America contained large Tarantula Spiders. Plus the bottom layer of bananas would speed up the rotting process to the wooden hull of the boat. These are two things no angler wants. In reality, fish are turned off and driven away by the potassium in bananas. Whether myth or legend, leave the bananas behind.
